

California Tan Spray Rules

A spray tan provides artificial tan through the application of dyes that are intended for use on the skin. There are two ways on how you can obtain spray tan: professionally meaning tanning booths and at home by using tanning products. Either way you will be able to get a tanned skin. However, for a more even application of tan it is preferred that you go to a tanning booth. The spray technology used by tanning booths can provide you with a flawless coverage. Unlike tanning lotion and other tanning products, which are difficult to apply evenly on the skin.

Spray tan is employed as an alternative to harmful tanning procedures and gadgets like for instance the use of tanning beds or sun lamps, which make use of UV rays that damage the skin. Although, many people still find spray tan as unnatural or fake but the fact remains that it is a safer option compared to UV tans. Plus, major advancement in tanning technology has made it possible for you to have a natural looking tan.

Professional tanning service is known by different names but the applications as well as the products used are basically the same. However the advantage of a professional spray tan is that you are provided with a professional assistance. Most tanning booths have skilled tanning staffs that orient first time users on how to use the tanning amenities. These same staffs also provide assistance when it comes to choosing a tone and in determining the amount of application that would suit a particular user's skin tone for a more natural tan result.

The process employed in most professional tanning booths is likened to a shower. Users are asked to stand beneath a nozzle or a tanning spray that emits tanning solutions. But before that, a technician will first set the tanning spray in accordance to the outcome that the user would like to achieve. Once everything is set inside the tanning booth then everything is just a matter of pushing that button.

As a user of a tanning booth make sure that you understand completely all the instructions given to you since there would be no one to assist you inside the booth. You will do the entire tanning yourself. Depending on the tan that you want you may have to return to the tanning booth for reapplication.
