For all those who are looking for good MySpace layouts, they will know what they go through to find them. It is a tedious task and fun at the same time. Tedious because, there are countless number of sites on the Internet who post free MySpace layouts. You will have to face the positive and negative aspects of the game while looking to customize your profile on this social networking site.

The first and best good aspect of the layouts is that there is a large variety. Irrespective of what kind of theme you are looking for, you will be able to find anything within that specification. And under that category you are bound to find plenty of variations as well. For example, looking for some cartoons is going to throw up various categories with various characters.

There are plenty of designers who are posting their creations of MySpace layouts on sites for free. Many of them really work towards giving users a very original look on the layout. The design and creative output will be entirely theirs. But there are some designers who would use pictures and logos, which they are not supposed to use. For example if someone is looking for a Hollywood actor, he might find a layout.

But this could be one of the themes lifted from a movie, and this material will not belong to the designer. That is the drawback of the Internet and MySpace layouts, as a lot of illegal themes could be used. While this could not mean much to the designers, it could mean a lot to the people who have the copyright of the images. Then users will have to face the possibility of spam as well.

Everyone must remember that anything free from the net will have many drawbacks. Since these layouts are being offered for free, all designers will do what they can to publicize the images as much as they can. They will use every possible shortcut to get their MySpace layouts on search engines, and users may also have to deal with spam if there is anything of that sort.

However if users are looking to customize their profiles on the community, they must be willing to overlook all other aspects of using them. Since application of these MySpace layouts is also easy, there is no need to think twice to use them and search for good ones. You are anyway not at fault with any copied themes and images. So if you need a good layout for your profile, just take time to hunt for the appropriate one before using them.

You may not like designs of some layouts but that would be something else you need to overlook. While everyone has a different creative outlook, you can just pick what would suit you the most.
