One excellent place to get custom printed bandanas is www.screengemsonline.com . There you can provide your own logo or have them design one for you. They've been in business for nearly twenty years screen printing t-shirts and bandanas. With orders from 50 to 10,000 pieces you will receive the best price possible.

Bandanas are a cool accessory for a wide range of styles and age groups. A video game promotions company may use them to promote a new game that is coming out and every kid who is a fan of that game will wear the bandana which will further benefit the company as a form of free advertising. A school who would simply like to promote school spirit would order their custom bandana with school colors and school logo printed on it. This affordable accessory is sure to fit their budget. A motorcycle / biker club would order fifty of them just for members so that they can have their organization logo on it as they wear it proudly on their jackets or on their heads. A band manager would order hundreds of them to sell at a concert that they're having...at ten times to cost to make them. or, you may be someone who is, simply, having a large family party and you'd like to give out an item to everyone.

Bandanas just may be the most versatile handout, gift item or retail item out there. Its a growing trend that you may want to think about the next time you want to get your message out to hundreds of people at minimal cost.
