

order prescriptions

There are many ways to order prescriptions that are safe, but there are other ways to do it where you don't know what you are getting. This has become a problem for many who are getting drugs from places that are not safe, and they don't even know if they are getting what they are paying for. There are some ways to order online that are as safe as going into your local pharmacy to have a prescription filled, and there are ways to put your health in jeopardy. The choice is up to you.

If you find a site online that will allow you to order prescriptions without having the actual prescription from your doctor, you should beware of what you are getting. It is illegal to get prescription drugs without a doctors consent, so these companies are based other places than the US, and most of the drugs are substandard and even dangerous. If you really want Viagra, go see your doctor so you know you are getting the real thing. You may be embarrassed, but there is nothing to be concerned with as your doctor won't bat an eye at your problem.

You can order prescriptions online through real drugstores and then go in and get your prescription. Most of them will not mail them, and in fact, I'm not sure that any can do so legally. This is a fast way to be sure your prescription is waiting for you when you arrive to pick them up with no waiting in line. If you choose to go through someone else, make sure your meds are coming from within the US. That way you know they are regulated, safe, and the strength they are supposed to be. With the recent problems the US has had with importing things from China, it is a smart move to know where your drugs are coming from at all times.

You may find there are times when you order prescriptions online and you run into problems. Some drugs are known to be sold illegally on the street, and that means those ones are heavily guarded and you may have more problems when you order prescriptions online. You may have to show your prescription when you pick up your drugs. You should have to do that anyway, so don't think you can order something online using fake information to get what you want. This could land you in a lot of trouble.
