

Prairie Candle Company

The Prairie Candle Company has been a family owned business in operation for ten years. Located in the rural community of Springfield, Colorado, these jar candles are known in the area for being pretty, colorful, wonderful smelling, and long lasting. Prairie Candle Company takes pride in offering customers the best quality candle products. They use only top of the line wax and supplies for optimum results.

Prairie Candle Company was developed out of a person's love for candles. However, they were disappointed that most candles lost their smell quickly or they didn't burn evenly. Since they enjoyed candles so much, research was conducted to develop a product that doesn't smoke, it burns evenly, and it burns to the bottom of the jar. This is what we know as the Prairie candle today.
