World wide Travel insurance can be used to cover the following:

Medical Insurance: covers all your medical and dental expenses. Look out for the procedures of reimbursement of the emergency expenses.

Flight Insurance: a life insurance that safeguards you from any plane crash, and keeps your dependents happy. Here's where you get the least value for your money after all how often do planes actually crash?

Comprehensive travel Insurance : covers your airfare, car rentals, tour etc. better deal for travelers with less of the trip prepaid because coverage is the same regardless of the premium paid.

Interruption insurance and trip cancellation insurance - it covers losses you encounter when you cancel a prepaid tour of flight for an acceptable reason. It covers a host of reasons for cancellation from family sickness to weather that doesn't a flight to occur. If you have an accident you'll be flown home.

Trip Cancellation insurance: when you cancel a ticket or miss your flight due to delay, you will incur a loss of your flight charges. It covers a host of reasons for cancellation from family sickness to weather that doesn't a flight to occur. If you have an accident you'll be flown home.

Baggage Insurance: Your baggage insurance insures items such as jewelry, eyewear, electronics and photographic equipments. If the airline checked your baggage, it is covered by the airline not your rider.
