

Title:

A Medical Transcriptionist Resume Will Highlight Your Unique Skills And Qualifications

Word Count:

297

Summary:

A Medical Transcriptionist in short MT positions, require a certification with training, specific skills like fast type writing, listening skills, and a specific field like Radiology,

Keywords:

Medical transcriptionist resume, Medical, medicine, transcriptionist, resumes, skills, resume, employer, job, diagnostics,

Article Body:

A Medical Transcriptionist in short MT positions, require a certification with training, specific skills like fast type writing, listening skills, and a specific field like Radiology, Operations report OR emergency reports handling etc.

Do make sure your mention your knowledge on industry standards like HIPPA requirements etc.

Below is a list of things that should appear in your resume.

Your knowledge history like training, certifications etc have to be highlighted.

The quality you can deliver in terms of % accuracy.
mention your type writing speed.

Your years of experience in the MT field, and if you could explain in detail which field you were transcribing: ophthalmology, nephrology etc.

Give a brief description about the employer: what they are doing, if they are not well known.

Whether you prefer to work from home. If so, you have the required computer and other MT hardware at your home.

List your merit details like name of the institution, city, state, degree, major, year awarded and GPA.

Mention your entire job related skills, computer proficiency and language skills to make your resume stand out.

Use some technical jargon to convince the employer. Experience in Coordinated and requisitioned all patient diagnostics, Maintained census and dietary records, operating room reports, autopsy reports and maintenance in physical examination documentation.

Mention any technical or computer qualifications and personality development, diploma in medical transcription etc done as a course with its content in brief, the duration, institute and also its result.

Mention your current and recent clients with specialties like internal medicine, pediatrics, orthopedics, and ENT/head & neck surgery etc.

Mention how you have reduced the costs and saved money in your department or the organization in general by any means.

Highlight any other achievements that have benefited to your department and obviously your organization in general.