a-squared Anti-Malware Personal Edition is a Malware Removal product from emsisoft, here are many anti-virus, anti-spyware and anti-dialer program products but only a few of them can claim to provide impactful protection from all types of Malware. The main reason for this is the eternal cat and mouse game played for decades between Malware programmers and the security industry. Normal security program is limited by the fact that it can only recognize Malware for which the manufacturer has already created a signature - assuming that the manufacture even has a copy of the Malware available for analysis.
